Thank you for taking the time to read our brochure and allowing us to introduce our products and industry to you.

Once a sawmill in the 1950's and 60's, the property spans 1400 acres southwest of Chinchilla on the western edge of the Darling Downs. Perhaps an unusual choice for a water dependent endeavour, the farm obtains its water from the floodwaters of the well-known Condamine River, valuing the necessity of water conservation. Much of the farm has been maintained with natural vegetation, and while still maintaining a steady head of Wagyu and Pinzgauer cattle. Stunning sunsets and an abundance of bird life including migrating Jabaru's and flocks of wandering whistling ducks create a natural wildlife sanctuary which is a pleasure to be a part of.

At Condabilla Fish we specialise in growing Murray Cod and other native local species for your dining pleasure. Our family owned business strives for excellence through innovation, producing quality Australian seafood products for Australian and International cuisines.

As a leading aquaculture venture, we aim to provide 'vitality cuisine' to both merchants and restaurants and finally directly to the public as a healthy and fresh menu choice. Our main product, the versatile Murray Cod, is a particular pleasure with its deep white, flaking fillets or steaks. Many a fisherman will tell tales (albeit often tall tales) of the mighty Murray Cod they caught years ago that was as tall as he and over 100 years old. Now a mostly protected and iconic sport fishing rarity found in the local Murray Darling River system, you may still enjoy this quality fish and allow for natural populations to flourish and form memories for keen dedicated fisherman wanting to create a tale of their own.

"I recall as a kid, my dad caught a Murray Cod and it was huge. We had an old falcon station wagon then and they put it across the floor near the back seat and its head and tail curved up the doors on either side. They left us kids behind to drive to Glen Innes just to show it to their friends because they knew they'd never believe it. I must have been about 8 or 9 then. I'll never forget it...a lot of kids won't ever see that."

We look forward to delighting your palate.
